Former Member Of CIA Speaks to Business Women

CPYRGHT

The Phillipsburg Business and Professional Women's Club heard a talk on espionage at a dinner meeting last night at Harkers Hollow Golf Club.

The speaker was Bruce Anderson, a former member of the Central Intelligence Agency. His topic was "The Honorable Profession of Spying".

Folk songs were presented by the Chanelles of Phillipsburg High School. Members of the group are Suzanne Stoken, Jean Michalowski, Donna Carlson, Lorinda Vincent, Valerie Marcus, Susan Peel and Linda Jiorle, guitar and piano accompanist.

Another speaker was Miss Mary Louise Wetjen of Cranford, third vice president of the New Jersey Federation of BPW Clubs. Announcement was made of the federation's convention May 14-16 in Atlantic City.

Mrs. William Stansbury, arts and crafts instructor at the Joseph Firth Youth Center, demonstrated Easter egg decorating, and the eggs and egg trees were used as table decorations.

Miss Agnes Gordown, music chairman, was leader and Mrs. Thomas Cawley accompanist for group singing. The meeting was planned by the executive committee with Miss Janet Nenow as chairman.
